

Fuller Youth Institute Church Consulting

Long-term, Full-scale Culture Change

Enlist our consulting team for premier customized support.

Today's churches are shrinking and aging, and young people are walking away. It is clear that many churches are calibrated for a world that does not exist. Our team at the Fuller Youth Institute trains and prepares you to lead your congregation toward change that breathes life into your whole church. With our groundbreaking research on churches that are relevant and thriving, we bring these insights to you. Those who have worked with us say we offer the best training they've ever received.

How we can help

Time on Site

We will spend time on site at your church to help you gain maximum insight from your Growing Young Assessment results. Through interviews, focus groups, and guided reflections, your team will gain clarity about exactly where your church is now and why it is stalled and/or making progress.

Core Insights

We will help your team and overall congregation master the core principles of Growing Young, including discerning and casting a compelling vision for your congregation's future.

Create a Plan

We will guide your church in creating a plan to implement the changes necessary to grow young. Through additional visits and/or regular phone calls, your consultant will assist you in crafting innovative experiments, maintaining disciplined attention, and anchoring changes in your congregation's culture for the long haul.

As part of Fuller Theological Seminary, the largest multidenominational seminary in the world, our consulting approach leverages the field of practical theology. Our strategy combines rich theological insights with practical and immediately applicable ideas.

Our consulting offerings are customized to your congregation's unique needs.

Packages begin at $5,000 - $10,000.

Ready to move forward?

Meet our Consulting Director.

Jake Mulder

Senior Director of Strategy

As a church consultant, Jake leads a team of experts who have decades of church leadership experience, research-informed insights, and a desire to help you unlock your church's potential and reach maximum effectiveness. To learn more about how our team of consultants can help you, contact us today.

Contact us today to get started.

fulleryouthinstitute.org | 626-584-5580 | fyi@fuller.edu